A single methodological approach can be used as individual practice and self study or in any combination to build your course The Just series is designed for individual skills and language development, either as a classroom-based course or a self-study programme. The approach is learner-centred, and each unit has clear aims, motivating topics and interesting practice activities. The Just series is for adult intermediate learners and can be used as general preparation material for exams at this level. All four books in the series include an answer key. Just Listening and Speaking and Just Vocabulary include a CD for oral practice
